Past Presidents & Fellows Scholarship

ASSE Past Presidents and Fellows have joined together to establish the ASSE Past Presidents & Fellows Scholarship, a new scholarship which will be administered through the ASSE Foundation in 2014. Stewart Burkhammer, Brad Giles, Eddie Greer, Ernie Harper, Skipper Kendrick, Rixio Medina, Del Tally and Joel Tietjens, have already donated $1,000 each to fund this award for students who have demonstrated leadership through involvement with their student section. If you would like to help pave the way for future safety professionals to be successful, well-credentialed and leaders of tomorrow, make a donation today at www.asse.org/foundation/contribute/donation.php.

Memorial Scholarships Named for Ray Boylston & Steve Kane

The Foundation will award scholarships in memory of Raymond P. Boylston and Steven F. Kane, two long-time and dedicated ASSE members. Ray Boylston, first Board Chair of the Foundation, laid the groundwork for the long-term success of the Foundation. Starting with a small fundraising plan and a handful of scholarships to award, Boylston’s leadership paved the way for today’s Foundation, with an investment portfolio of $3.4 million and more than 100 awards to hand out this season. “Ray Boylston was a mentor for a generation of safety professionals in the North Carolina region. He taught us all to never compromise when it came to protecting workers,” says Tom Cecich, CSP, CIH, ASSE’s Vice President, Professional Affairs.

Steve Kane, member of the ASSE Board of Directors for many years, worked tirelessly for the good of the Society. He was an effective, persistent leader, and his enthusiasm for our community was contagious. “Steve was an amazing person committed to his family, the occupational safety, health and environmental profession, and to protecting people. His work on the board contributed greatly to the continued growth and success of ASSE,” says ASSE President Rick Pollock, CSP.

The Foundation will award the Raymond P. Boylston Memorial Scholarship ($1,000) and the Steven F. Kane Memorial Scholarship ($1,000) to two students who have demonstrated a commitment to the safety profession. In gratitude for their service, we look forward to remembering these men at Safety 2013.

Applications International Corporation Increases Donations

Applications International Corporation increased its donation this year to $26,750, up from $14,700 last year. This year marks the third year Applications International has awarded scholarships through the ASSE Foundation for students pursuing degrees in safety, health and the environment. The company’s contribution of $26,750 for the 2013 Scholarship & Grant Program will fund 10 scholarships of $2,500 each. Both graduate and undergraduate students will be eligible to receive these scholarships.

When developing criteria for it scholarships, Applications International specified a preference for students who have served or are currently serving in the military. The company would like to give back to those who have already sacrificed so much for the greater good.
Aon Supports Safety Matters Fund With Generous Gift of $10,000

The Foundation is pleased to report Aon’s $10,000 gift to the Safety Matters Fund, a gift that shows Aon understands how rapidly the world is changing, and how crucial it is to plan ahead.

The Safety Matters Fund is the backbone of the ASSE Foundation, providing long-term growth and impact by concentrating on three components that are crucial for the future of our profession: 1) A focus on promoting safety professionals as risk-assessment experts who play a key role in sustainability, rather than merely agents of compliance; 2) an investment in quality, ground-breaking research; and 3) a purposeful and targeted expansion of our workforce, taking into account the current trends of demography which show that by 2020, there will be thousands more EH&S jobs than trained EH&S professionals.

Since the Foundation’s inception, Aon generously has supported our programs and funds with $35,000. This gift of $10,000 directed toward the Safety Matters Fund will go a long way in helping the Foundation place the safety profession at the crossroads of healthy workers and a flourishing environment.

“Imagine a marketplace where firms are incentivized to be investors in their professional practice communities. Aon’s gift leads by investing in the long-term well-being of our profession and, therefore, our world,” says ASSE Foundation Board Chair Fay Feeney. “If every corporation invested with the same vision and thoughtfulness of Aon, just imagine how much quicker we could reach our goal of a global safety culture where safety matters!”

Lancaster County Industrial Safety Council Donates $15,000, Joins Foundation as a Visionary Donor

The Lancaster County Industrial Safety Council (LCISC) has established a fund with $15,000 and a pledge to give $15,000 more by July 2013. The monies will go toward a $1,000 scholarship, open to graduate or undergraduate students, part-time or full-time. Preference will be given to applicants who are members of LCISC, enrolled in an OSEH program at Millersville University or are Pennsylvania residents. The scholarship will be named the LCISC Scholarship in honor of Craig Schroll and Jan Getz, two long-time members of LCISC who gave generously of their time and resources.

WorkCare Funds Scholarship Focused on Safety & Public Health

WorkCare has established the Foundation’s first-ever scholarship focused on public health. WorkCare, the nation’s largest physician-owned and managed occupational healthcare company, is partnering with the Foundation to award a $5,000 scholarship at Safety 2013 to a master’s or Ph.D. student in safety with an emphasis in public health. WorkCare connects its clients with wellness resources and clinic providers, maximizing the health and safety of more than 500,000 workers per year on a worldwide basis. Since 1984, the company has been improving quality of life, generating cost-effective care and improving the healthcare of the workforce.

Foundation Events at Safety 2013

Full Slate of Activities Planned

Curious about the Foundation? Interested in an opportunity to meet the staff and ask questions? Looking for a way to advance the profession while enjoying yourself in Las Vegas? Look no further than the Foundation events at Safety 2013!

Join us for the 7th annual ASSE Foundation Golf Outing, held at Badlands Golf Club. Picture yourself golfing at this majestic course, twenty-seven holes nestled against the breathtaking views of the Red Rock canyons.

Mark your calendars for Monday, June 24 with a 7:30 am shotgun start. The $160 registration fee includes the green fee, cart rental, range balls, and a catered lunch. Prizes will be awarded to the top three teams and there will also be longest drive and closest to the pin contests.

Space is limited! Our golf outing sold out the last time we were in Las Vegas. Contact ASSE Customer Service at (847) 699-2929 for information on registration, sponsorship, or any other questions. Register today, and support the future of the profession while golfing amidst gorgeous scenic views, networking with peers, and a little friendly competition.

Before, during, and after the golf outing, bid early and often in our 19th Annual Silent Auction. For Safety 2013, the Foundation will debut a new mobile auction, enabling our supporters to participate from anywhere. The auction will open in mid-June and registration, bidding, and payment can all be completed online.

We’re accepting auction contributions now, so if you or your chapter wants to be a part of our first-ever mobile auction, contact Adele Gabanski at agabanski@asse.org. Last year, our Silent Auction raised $11,115. Help us do better this year!

Both events benefit the Foundation’s research and education initiatives.

Are You Ready to Stand Out From the Crowd?

The Foundation has been busy this year, not only growing our portfolio and supporting existing programs, but also developing new ways to support members and advance the profession.

We will be premiering a program at Safety 2013: the Next Generation Board. Open to members between the ages 23 and 35, the Foundation Next Generation Board will enable young Society members to support the profession while making a strategic investment in their own careers. The ASSE Foundation will secure the perspective and energies of ASSE’s next generation of leaders, and the young professionals of the Society, who will enjoy unique development and advancement opportunities.

The Foundation Next Generation Board will increase awareness of the Foundation’s purpose, encourage participation in the Foundation’s programs and cultivate intergenerational connections within the Foundation community. At Safety 2013, the inaugural Next Generation Board will meet and begin planning its first year’s activities.

Our New Logo

After more than 20 years, the ASSE Foundation has a new logo, a modern and fresh representation of what the Foundation is and does. The logo expresses multiple facets of the organization’s identity with an eye-catching and meaningful design.

We started with the Foundation’s tagline: Generosity from you, growth within our profession, safety for all. This simple tagline holds the story of the Foundation—because of the philanthropy of our charter members, the Foundation is able to provide programs that advance the safety profession, keeping more and more employees safe at work and increasing safety everywhere. For brevity’s sake, we pared the story down to three words—generosity, growth, safety—each represented by one shield in the logo.

We used the shield shape to show our connection to ASSE, and just as the three shields overlap and intersect to form another shield at the center of our logo, the Foundation itself is essentially built out of components of ASSE. When the three shields are placed together, they combine into a central, most prominent shield. Unified as such, this strongest shield showcases the collaboration and nurturing side of the Foundation.

The icon is the focal point of the logo, and can be viewed two ways. First, you can see a person reading a book, referencing our successful scholarship and grant program, which has to date awarded more than $1.3 million to deserving students and professionals. Second, you see a lantern, pointing more broadly to the Foundation’s overarching orientation toward lighting the way to a safer tomorrow.

The orange evinces a bright warmth, a bold choice sure to stand out in various applications. We designed this logo to tell our story equally well in print as on the web. The avatar alone will communicate our mission without words, a must-have as we continue expanding our social media presence.

We haven’t changed who we are. We are still committed to guiding the profession forward, still committed to insisting that safety matters. We’re the same Foundation you’ve known all these years, but we are looking ahead. With our new logo—youthful and bright, trustworthy and strong—the Foundation is moving forward, eager to bring the safety profession onward and upward.
